

Weekly Newsletter – 18th March 2022

I am starting today's newsletter with the sad news that Mr Hobbs will be leaving us next Wednesday. It is great news for him as he has a really exciting new job as a sport's coach but I know that the children and staff will miss him enormously. We wish him well and know that he will be fantastic in his new role.

There will be some changes to clubs, which we will update you with as soon as possible.

Next week is a really busy week in school. It starts on Monday with a special dress down day. I know that lots of the children have been looking for a way to show support for those children fleeing Ukraine and so we will be raising money for the Red Cross who are offering practical support for children and families. There will be collection buckets on the gate in the morning and afternoon for voluntary contributions.

Thursday is another dress down day! This time your children are invited to bring in an Easter egg which will form part of our Easter egg tombola on the 1st April. Please remind your children that they won't necessarily win their egg back as I know that this sometimes causes confusion. This is a fundraising event for the school. Tickets will be sold online

Friday is also a special day, but in school uniform, as it is our Mother's Day sale. It is an opportunity for children to buy their Mums, grandmas, Aunties or special people in their lives a little gift from our Reddings shop. The prices are from £1 to £5 and in the first instance children will only be allowed to buy one item so that there are enough to go around. Children will need to bring money into school on that day in a named envelope. We won't have a lot of change so if you could send coins in that would be fantastic.

How close are you to completing your bookopoly board? I know that we have already had some children receiving their book token, I wonder who will be next?
